To the recommender: Admission of a student to the URGE to Compute undergraduate research program entails the investment of $11,000 and a very large amount of faculty effort and time in the student over the course of a full calendar year. Please help us assess the degree to which this applicant merits such an investment. All viable applicants will be high performers in course work: we seek your judgment on the applicant's potential as a researcher. More information about the program can be found at http://urgetocompute.info.

(1) How long have you known the applicant, and in what capacity?

(2) For each of the following qualities please rank the applicant among undergraduate majors in your Department. It is not expected that you will be in a position to judge in all categories – where not, just check the box on the right.

(3) On the reverse side or on a separate sheet, please provide any additional information you feel would be useful to the URGE to Compute admissions committee in assessing this applicant.

URGE to Compute is funded by the National Science Foundation's CSUMS program.
